James Oliphant, HSC, interviewed Robert Gambino, Director of Security, in the writer's presence at 4E60 on 25 August. Oliphant explained the reason for HSC interest in this particular case stressing they have no desire to delve into the personal particulars. HSC needs a chronology concerning the receipt, investigation and reporting of the information alleging [REDACTED] electronic surveillance of her husband's activities through a firm of private detectives.

Gambino answered all Oliphant's questions to Oliphant's admitted satisfaction and promised to assemble a group of documents which would contain the events of the case from inception in October 1973 to its conclusion in August 1974. Gambino also told Oliphant the documents would be heavily sanitized because of the need to protect the reputations of the parties involved. Oliphant offered no objection to this approach. ✓
